Social and Personal

RS. KITTY SCOTT McGILVRA, of 105 North Fifth Street, entertained about thirty girls of the younger society set at a very pretty informal tea yesterday afternoon. The affair was in honor of Miss Elizabeth Bentley, two debutantes of the winter. The tea table was decorated with a centreplece of Killarney roses and sprays of spirea, and vases of Killarney roses were set around the rooms. Miss Elizabeth Selden poured tea and Miss Virginia Chamberlayne and Miss Grace Perkins assisted in the dining room.

Fill the tree with candles and put most of them on lopsided so they will tip over easily. Place the tree in the bay window among the lace curtains and fix it so it can be knocked over by the baby. Then light it and go into another part of the house, leaving the children alone with it. The fire department will do the rest.

Tell all of your friends what you are going to give them and you will be sure to get something equally valuable in return. Take no chances.

If your friends live at a distance, wait until you see if you get anything from them before mailing gifts. Then you can blame your apparent delay on the mail service.
